How do I use Event Stat Manager?

The program is very easy to use. With simple controls, the data is extracted from the Adobe Connect platform and placed in a Datagrid very similar to the one you know from Excel. In the Datagrid you have the option to sort and filter all the data so that you are able to find all instances where a particular participant is signed up for an event. Or you might be interested in knowing how many have participated in a specific event. All kinds of sorting and filtering is available. After you have done the sorting, it is possible to print the data to a report which shows the outcome. Also if you want to export the data to Excel, you have that option if Excel is installed on your PC.
In Adobe Connect you have the option to export data from one Event at a time. Here you get full reports on all the data from all events with one push on a button.
